Paris, Aug. 2.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"The activity of the artillery has been less marked in Artois and the valley of the Aisne. A number of shells have been thrown into Arras and Soissons."

"In the Argonne spirited infantry engagements occurred on the night of August 1-2. In the region of Hill 212, the Germans occupied one of our trenches, which a counter-attack by our troops recovered in part."

"During the course of the day, after having made use of flaming liquid, the enemy launched a violent attack against our trenches in the region of Martin Thorens and succeeded in gaining a foothold in one of them. We immediately counter-attacked and regained the greater part of the ground lost."

RUSSIANS CANNOT RESIST TEUTON ADVANCE

Berlin, Aug. 2 (via London, Aug. 3, 1:40 a. m.)—Eugene Lennet, correspondent of the Reuters, Aug. 2, telegraphed as follows from Austrian headquarters under date of August 1:

"Heavy fighting has been resumed to the north of Lublin. There and on the front in the region of the great bend of the Vistula, the Russians are trying to check the terrible advance of the Austro-Germans obviously aiming to meet the danger threatening Lvov from the south. Their resistance is stronger than formerly in the west between the Vistula and the Bug, where the retreat continued Saturday."

"The German-Austrian front in this section is everywhere in steady forward movement. Wherever the enemy tries to hold points of support he is driven back. The Russians have now abandoned their efforts to break the Austro-German lines further up the Bug in Galicia after weeks of heavy losses and diminutive success."

HEXAMER WANTS TO BE FRIENDLY WITH UNCLE SAM

Hyphenated Citizen Hopes He Won't Have to Be Ashamed Much Longer; Is Dead Set Against Prohibition.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) San Francisco, Aug. 2.—With a declaration by the president, Dr. C. J. Hexamer, of Philadelphia, that the organization stands for the perpetuation of friendly relations between the United States and Germany, and the adoption of the secretary's report embodying the recommendation that liquor prohibition be opposed, the eighth national convention of the National German-American Alliance of the U. S. organized today for three days of business sessions.

The formalities of organizing took up the whole day, and after the task of assembling in committee the business for the next two days, the 340 delegates sought relaxation tonight at a banquet given by California Sons of Hermann.

The report of Secretary Adolph Tium of Philadelphia, called attention to the plan of campaign of prohibitionists as outlined at Atlantic City recently, and expressed the belief that "strong agitation by the liberal element is absolutely necessary." The report added the recommendation that German alliances obtain from congressmen copies of the congressional record as a reminder that they are following the duties of citizenship.

Opposed to Prohibition

President Hexamer said tonight that he was expected to participate in the prohibition question would be before the convention during the session. The German-American League, he said, were rather opposed to the method of prohibition than the result sought and felt that the alliance was a better means of controlling the drink habit.

Reports from various state leagues showed a membership of 2,500,000 in forty-five states and the existence of more than 10,000 German-American societies affiliated with the league. While the contest for the 1917 convention has not formally opened, Milwaukee, Wis., and Omaha, Neb., appeared early in the day as candidates, and they were followed soon by New York and the New Jersey state delegation who are advocating Atlantic City.

Germans Not Appreciated

At the banquet Dr. Hexamer, speaking of the alliance and its activities, said that while the alliance will not be to be considered as the German-American population fully would be appreciated.

"I do not want to be prophetic," he added, "but I believe you can take this message from here that the alliance will prove its right. The time will come when the American people will realize that the German-American population fully would be appreciated."

Among other speakers were Dr. Leo Stern, Milwaukee, Wis.; Prof. Hugo Meyer, Berlin, Germany; Dr. Philip Appenheimer, Burlington, Vt.; and Countessman Julius Jaffe of San Francisco.

VILLA ISSUES DEFENSE TO AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 2.—Confiscation of property of merchants irrespective of nationality operating in Villa territory, the execution of six of forty-two Mexican merchants imprisoned by the Villa government after a conference on Saturday to raise a forced loan during which General Villa is alleged to have declared, "The American government can go to hell if it doesn't pay."

The order of confiscation of the property from merchants upon the general charge of extortion and he was quoted as declaring, "I will deal for the state."

Advices from Chihuahua City to the local representatives of foreign mining corporations representing many millions of dollars are to the effect that the meeting of the representatives of mining corporations, called for today, was adjourned until August 3 because of slim attendance of mining corporation representatives.

The meeting was said to have been called for the collection of a forced loan of $100,000, the amount asked having been reduced to $50,000.

A message from Chihuahua City to the mining men here received today stated:

"General Villa demands that the industries in addition to mining government officials monthly morning, August 3, at 10 o'clock, to receive a proposition of grave importance to be submitted. Further, that accredited representatives attend. In case of no attendance, properties of such companies will be sold and liquidated. With those in attendance would be binding."

A development of interest on the border was the alleged revolt of the Villa garrison of 300 men at Guadalupe, twenty-eight miles southwest of here. It is confirmed that such a revolt occurred and that the garrison imprisoned its officers but that the garrison declared for Carranza, as stated by the Carranza consulate here, was not verified. The railroad service to Guadalupe has not been interrupted.

DENIES THAT VILLA DEFIED UNCLE SAM

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 2.—A general denial that the foreign merchants were expelled by General Villa, that there were any executions of Mexican merchants Saturday at Chihuahua city or that General Villa used any "insult" language toward the United States government was made by General Ornelas, commander of the Villa forces at Juarez, Mexico, tonight.

General Ornelas declared General Felipe Ayala, military governor of Chihuahua, had received several complaints of merchants of Chihuahua city regarding the "extortion" situation, they were practicing, with their goods, some of which were out of reach of the people, even the well to do.

The representations made by Governor Ayala were well as the orders he dictated to the plenipotentiary, said the statement "were not heeded, especially by some of the foreign merchants who decided in their own minds as such foreigners and whose behavior was considered by the Mexican merchants, who insisted they had the same rights as the former."

"The situation was becoming more tense every day, for which reason General Ayala resolved to go to Torreon for a conference with General Villa, and returned with him to Chihuahua four days ago."

"General Villa, after studying the attitude of the merchants and the conditions of the people of Chihuahua, assumed that merchants to a meeting and stated to them that in view of the resistance manifested by them in co-operation with the government of the state in smothering out difficulties, proposed to allow them to intervene in the foreign business privileges taking all their stock of merchandise for which he would pay cash the invoice price allowing them in addition 15 per cent profit. The business houses of some of the Mexican merchants were also interfered with and some of the owners were jailed. It is untrue that there were some executions of that General Villa expressed any insolent words against the United States."

"The foreign merchants," added General Ornelas, "have not been expelled from the state, and should any of them desire to leave the country they are at liberty to do so. All aid will be given them to leave the state and they will enjoy guarantees."
